POISON GAS TO BE RETAINED AS WEAPON OF WARFARE

Unanimous Report By Committee Against Its Prohibition—Armament Conference May Finish In Ten Days—Last of Submarine Rules Being Debated.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, Jan. 6.—A unanimous report against prohibition of poison gas as a weapon of warfare has been submitted to the arms conference by the sub-committee appointed to consider that question. It was learned on highest authority today.

The flat announcement by a high British official that Great Britain does not regard the four-powered Pacific treaty already signed, or the five-powered naval treaty, now being drawn, as in any way constituting offensive or defensive alliances, went far today toward clearing the conference atmosphere, as the end of the two months' parley have into view.

So far as Great Britain is concerned, it was announced officially, in case of attack she reserves the right to increase her navy immediately to any figure she may deem advisable and expects other powers to do the same. It would be an act of grace, however, for a nation under such circumstances, to notify the other powers.

The rapid progress of the last 24 hours—the virtual prohibiting of submarine attacks on commerce and settlement of the Chinese tariff and foreign troops question—led to renewed predictions that another ten days will see the end of the parley.

The naval committee went back into session today to tackle the last of the Root submarine resolutions which makes it an act of piracy, punishable by death for a submarine commander to violate the rules of submarine warfare now agreed upon.

D. A. R. HEAR OF OLD KINGSTON

Grave And Amazing Phases of City's Long Existence Commented On By Howard Chipp.

There was an excellent attendance at the January meeting of Wiltwyck Chapter, D. A. R., held at the Chapter House on Thursday afternoon, Mrs. W. N. Fessenden, regent, presiding.

The membership of the chapter was added to by the reception of the following new members: Miss Louise Van Hoesen, Mrs. Childer, transferred from Plainfield, Conn., Mrs. Alvin Stoddard, Mrs. Lorraine Wood and Miss Sadie Schutt. During the business session Mrs. T. D. Lewis was elected as delegate to attend with the regent, the coming D. A. R. conference to be held at Washington in April, with the following alternates: Mrs. William J. Cranston, Miss Katherine O. Van Keuren, Mrs. Oscar Edwards, Miss Edith Holmes, Miss M. A. DuBois, and Mrs. Charles Wood.

At the close of the business session, Mrs. Leonard K. Stelle introduced Howard Chipp, who was to be the speaker of the afternoon. Mrs. Stelle made note of the fact that this year Wiltwyck Chapter is making study of American history, especially that of our own state. So desiring to begin at home, Mr. Chipp, because of his familiarity with Old Kingston, had been asked to be the first speaker, and his presence was fully appreciated.

Mr. Chipp began with the founding of Kingston and said there was considerable doubt as to the exact date regarding which there was much controversy. Probably it was not founded before 1650, but that would make it a town of relative antiquity. It was first spoken of as Esopus in an old report, from which Mr. Chipp read, and which showed that in even those remote days the people were pious folk. Touching upon the Indian uprising, Mr. Chipp told of the stockade built by Peter Stuyvesant, within the bounds of which the Chapter House stands. When under English rule there was considerable of a protest against the man in power, Captain Brodhead, whom Mr. Chipp felt sure Sam Weller would have dubbed a "Harbottle Gent," and the claim was substantiated by the records of complaints against him.

The treaty with the Indians was noted and the audience reminded that the wampum belt, guarantee of that treaty is today to be seen in the County Clerk's office.

Attention was also called to the fact that so many of the names of cities and counties in our state were English names, among these the names of our county, Ulster, and our city, Kingston. After the establishment of the town of Kingston by patent in 1657 the place began to grow markedly. Agriculture was carried on and there was slave-holding. Mr. Chipp old two or three amusing incidents relative to the pride in their beloved "dutch ancestry," on the part of the slaves brought up in the Kingston and Ulster-county families whose names they took, and on the part of their descendants.

In speaking of revolutionary days in Kingston, Mr. Chipp opined that the vandalism of burning Kingston was too gentle an act after all to be compared with the vandalism of the Germans in the World War. Yet the act was not justified even by the British. However, the speaker philosophized that since improved conditions often follow a fire, probably such a betterment followed the burning of Kingston.

The early conservatism of Kingston was shown when it was stated that the trustees of the town voted against the establishment of Union College here as it would bring too holstered an element into the community.

The trustees of the town until 1816, when a red revolution of the counties left us the village of Kingston.

Mr. Chipp stated that he was always greatly interested in the streets of a city. Whence and how they get their names? He told of one section of the city being called "New Connecticut," the same being bounded by St. James street on the north; by the Bowery (now Franklin street) on the south; by East Front street (now Clinton avenue) on the west; and by Union avenue (now Broadway) on the East.

In speaking of the old houses in Kingston, Mr. Chipp made special mention of the old house with its second story balcony which used to occupy the corner of Main and East Front streets. This was the house made famous in the Civil war as the "Draft House," where the draft wheel decided the fate of many a man. Mr. Chipp recalling those days expressed his appreciation of the smoothness and ease with which the draft in the World War was accomplished. He also made special mention of an error which has recently appeared in the newspapers wherein unpleasant reflections were cast upon the men of Civil War times who paid for substitutes to take their places in the war. No odium was ever cast upon such action at the time it occurred and should not be now.

When he came to speak of our court house, Mr. Chipp put up a strong plea for the preservation of our architecturally dignified, historic and substantial court house in preference to any modern edifice which might be substituted for it, and was heartily applauded for his sentiments.

In speaking of the living in the old days, Mr. Chipp noted the increasing lateness of the dinner hour, in England too, from noon to half-past six or seven o'clock at present. And the parties held in the old De Waal house on North Front street began at 7 o'clock instead of 9:30.

ABOUT THE FOLKS.

Daniel H. Hurley, clerk of The Eagle Hotel, is visiting his brother, John Hurley, at the Hurley House, DeKalb Junction, N. Y.

Miss Ruth Scott, who has been spending the holidays at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Scott, on West Chester street, has returned to Syracuse University.

Under Sheriff Tunis H. Haulenbeck, who has been confined to his home on Main street for several days by a severe attack of neuritis, was able to be at the sheriff's office today.

David Travis of West Park underwent a serious operation at the Kingston City Hospital on Wednesday morning. The operation was successfully performed by Drs. Chandler and Ross. Mr. Travis is gaining nicely.

Miss Lillie McKinnon of West Chester Normal School, at West Chester, Pa., and Farilla McKinnon, teacher at Hillburn, N. Y., have returned after spending their holiday vacation at the home of their parents, 52 Delaware avenue.

Sheriff William H. Kolts, Fire Commissioners Louis Kolts and Charles Lahl, Jr., and Fire Chief Rodney A. Chipp attended the funeral of the late Fred Bieber at Poughkeepsie on Wednesday. Mr. Bieber for many years was chief of the Poughkeepsie fire department, and also president of the Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association.

p. m. as at present. There were fewer holidays than, too.

Mention was made of the rival burying grounds, Sharpe's Albany avenue and Houghtaling's on Pine street, and the high character of the old Kingston Academy was noted. Nor did Mr. Chipp forget to make mention of the early newspapers, especially that very disappointing paper, as far as present day owners are concerned, the Ulster County Gazette containing the account of Washington's death.

Then Mr. Chipp devoted a brief time to a reconstruction of Kingston of fifty years ago when the chief excitement and entertainment of the year was the circus. The popular songs of the day were those sung by the clowns. Then there was the fair and in the winter the lecture course. Gravelly spoke there, he was impressed with the inadequacy of the place that he urged Kingstonians to build a more adequate place, and the old Music Hall, now the Opera House, resulted. It was in '67 or '68 that the first professional theatrical performance was given in Music Hall, the play being "The Stranger."

The fire and military companies of those days were exceedingly popular, especially the fire companies, the firemen's balls being great social events. Of course, Mr. Chipp told of "Billy Hamlin's" and of Billy Hamlin, himself, a man, who though serious-minded himself, had a heart for the boys of his day. Then there was the rival "Penny Store" in Hightstown, where Mr. Chipp learned from actual experience the truth of its owner's philosophy, "You can't buy everything for a penny." Two notable saloons were also remembered, "The Deacon's Corner" and the Crosby building, corner Wall and John streets, and the "Epleurean" across from the Court House about where the Advance Restaurant now is.

And Flat Rocks, the community picnic ground and amphitheatre, where school closing exercises were sometimes held as well as beautiful Jacob's Valley came in for their share of remembrance. Then there was "Lovers' Lane," "The Lowlands," etc., and Mr. Chipp closed by saying that he could say with Captain Hardcastle that he liked "Old times, old songs, old wines, old friends," and he would add "Old Kingston."

After the enthusiastic applause, Mr. Chipp was given a hearty vote of thanks.

DE VALERA RESIGNS AS PRESIDENT OF "IRISH REPUBLIC," APPARENTLY PAVING WAY FOR TREATY ACCEPTANCE

HENRY FORD ONLY U. S. BILLIONAIRE

Also Has Largest Amount of Cash In Bank, Nearly $145,000,000—Regards It Only As Tool To Create New Industries, Giving Employment—Determined To Develop Waterpower.

(By Allan L. Benson.)
(Copyright 1922 by The International News Service.)

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 6.—Henry Ford begins the new year with the greatest amount of cash in bank that any human being ever had. A few years ago, Russell Sage, with ten to fifteen millions in ready cash, used to have this distinction. Two days ago, the General Motors Company announced that it had in bank $41,000,000. Henry Ford's bank balance today is in excess of $121,000,000. He himself does not know within $5,000,000 or $10,000,000 of how much actual cash he has at the moment because he has not taken the trouble to inquire of his son Edsel, the treasurer, since the foregoing figures were given to him a few weeks ago.

"Our balance," said Mr. Ford, "is probably between $135,000,000 and $145,000,000."

Henry Ford is a billionaire. In reply to a question he told me today that he had no doubt that his holdings based upon their earnings, could be capitalized and sold for a billion dollars.

Mr. Ford gave me this information because I asked for it. Neither his mind nor his conversation runs to money. I am sure money means less to him than to any other rich man whom I ever knew.

"My property," he continued, "consists of about $100,000,000 worth of buildings, $100,000,000 more than $100,000,000 in cash. As a going concern, I have no doubt that these assets could be capitalized and sold for a billion dollars."

"But this $121,000,000 or whatever it is, balance in the bank, means nothing to me except a tool with which to work. I might liken it to the fly wheel on an engine, the belt from a motor to a machine, or to the wire that carries electricity to a trolley car. A big balance is required to keep our wheels going. We pay wages amounting to $500,000 a day and our materials cost us $750,000 a day. Our bank balance is therefore sufficient to pay our operating expenses for only 100 days."

"All the money that comes to me goes into new industries. I never invest money in bonds or anything of the kind. What I want is to make this a better country for all of us to live in. That is why I want to get a chance to go to work at Muscle Shoals. I see the government is going to have a third bid for Muscle Shoals by the way. I wonder if the politicians are playing their old game of complicating a situation for the purpose of killing a plan by delaying action upon it? Well, if they keep me out of Muscle Shoals, I will try to get a chance to put some dams on the Mississippi. They cannot bar me out of all the water power sites in the country. I am going to get in a number of places. It is to the public interest that the wasted water power of this country should be saved. Enough water power is going to waste to heat, cook and furnish light for all the people in the country."

"But I don't want Muscle Shoals or any big power site for the purpose of owning it. If I get Muscle Shoals I shall contrive a plan by which it will eventually become the property of the government without cost and serve the people forever while bringing profit to the government."

Henry Ford is the first American billionaire. His revelations at Detroit today show that he and not John D. Rockefeller, is the richest man in the United States.

No Vote on Ratification Until Saturday—De Valera To Run For Re-election, Equal to Referendum on Treaty—Accuses Griffith of Breaking Promise and Believes Ireland Could Have Settled With Britain on More Independent Basis—Nothing Will Do Except Republic.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Dublin, Jan. 6.—Eamonn de Valera this afternoon resigned as "president of the Irish republic" and as executive of the Sinn Fein. The Sinn Fein cabinet resigned with De Valera.

The resignations are believed to mark the collapse of serious opposition to the Irish peace treaty in Dail Eireann.

It was decided this afternoon not to take a vote upon ratification of the treaty until tomorrow.

"I resign as chief executive authority and with my resignation ceases the entire ministry," said De Valera in a statement to the public. "When I came out of jail, I found Arthur Griffith, head of the political section of the Sinn Fein, and C. Bruchra, head of the Irish Republican army. They differed and then as now, I was the connecting link. I believe that Bruchra represented the heart of the Irish people."

"The cabinet has tried hard to get the two sides into harmony. When the treaty was signed in London, my task was to end the split forever."

"On October 23, I wrote to London that if recognition of the English king was essential, the Irish would not accept the peace agreement. If it is to be war, I said, then it would be better for it to come immediately."

"Griffith broke his promise to me on December 3 not to sign any document pledging allegiance to the king. I believe we could have got a settlement without becoming British citizens."

De Valera announced his intention of continuing the fight. That part of his statement dealing with his future plans follows:

"I intend to offer myself to the people for re-election on the lines of the 1916 election. I will want a cabinet in unison with me if I am elected. I will demand that all of the resources be handed over to me for the defence of the republic if I am successful."

A new cabinet will be formed at Arthur Griffith, founder of the Sinn Fein, and with Michael Collins, chief leader of the faction supporting the Irish peace treaty.

"When the Irish peace agreement was signed this assembly became split open as wide as it possibly could be," said De Valera in a speech to Dail.

"I and those who are with me stand for a republic of Ireland. Nothing else will do."

De Valera assumed the title of "president of the Irish Republic" when the Sinn Fein issued a declaration of Irish independence in 1919.

He has endeavored to modify the Irish treaty, prior to adoption, to give Ireland a more independent status in relation to Great Britain, though still entering the "federation" of commonwealths the states comprising the empire.

The members of the Sinn Fein cabinet were De Valera, Griffith, Michael Collins, Cathal Brugha, Count Plunkett, Countess Markievicz, William Cosgrave and John MacNeill.

Collins said that his resignation as minister of finance was not accepted. He issued a statement saying:

"I tendered my resignation which was refused. The president's action is only a red herring. We will have no Tammany here. If Dail rejects the Treaty De Valera can have a cabinet report in ten minutes."

"The report of the private (peace) committee, was prevented from coming before the house by the action of three or four bullies."

KINGSTON, N. Y., JAN. 6, 1922.

Marshall Foch received degrees from 30 American colleges. If he had staid long enough these honors might have run into the hundreds and reached the utmost limit, but doubtless he is sufficiently content with his present collection.

When Mrs. Margot Asquith lectures in this country on "People I Have Met" ambitious hostesses would do well to have a care, for when she goes back to England her sharp tongue will be sure to deal with people she met over here.

During the last ten years 340,260 southern negroes emigrated to the north and west, and 47,223 northern and western born negroes emigrated to the southern states. It is hardly necessary to add that the south still has all but 8.1 per cent of the blacks.

Forty thousand volumes of "detective, wild west" and Indian stories have been burned in Berlin by the Association for the Protection of German Youths. Next thing we'll hear that Berlin blames the sins of German militarism on American "literature" of the "Old Cap. Coffin" brand.

Now some of the Scots are talking of a Scottish Free State, and though some of the English might welcome a care-free existence in an English Free State, they are likely to draw the line at a Welsh Free State, for that would deprive them of their master-politician, Lloyd-George.

An army officer looked at Senator Watson, whereupon Senator Watson said he would slap the army officer's face for 2 cents. From the point of view of the dignity of the Capitol it is fortunate that nobody put up the money, but it would have been interesting to see whether the slapper or the slapped came out on top in the tussle.

WITTENBERG.

By all accounts there are heroes among the prohibition enforcement officers. In spite of the risks they encounter they do and dare. From California comes the story that certain prohibition agents have been "poisoned" by tasting forbidden fluids as a matter of duty. "In order to get evidence against the distiller or seller," it is explained. After this heroic sampling of the poisoned cup, we read, they suffered from a "general lassitude, loss of appetite and a desire to rest." Such "symptoms" were not infrequently heard of long before prohibition times, after a too free indulgence in Scotch highballs, whisky sours, and such like, but it is easy to imagine the terrors of the prohibition enforcers when compelled by a sense of duty to inflict themselves in this manner. And think of the courage that was required of those Boston enforcers when recently they raided a "wet" banquet in honor of Governor Cox! That was a braver deed than even imbibing enough of the poison to necessitate a period of "rest" and "sleeping it off."

The Boston affair is the more interesting because of the political significance that is attached to it. The rumor that Governor Cox went to the "wet" banquet as a candidate for Republican renomination on a wet platform is indignantly denied, but wicked, winking Democrats are having their fun out of it. They are unable to derive much political capital from the incident, however, because the majority of Massachusetts Democrats are rather "wet" in their opinions, and therefore, as the Springfield Republican (Ind.) explains, "are not likely to put up anybody whose attitude on prohibition would be more agreeable to those Republicans who stand for the strictest possible enforcement." In other words, though Governor Cox may be unreliable from the prohibition enforcement point of view, a Democratic candidate might be even more so.

In an effort to clear Governor Cox, the Boston Herald "cites a recent banquet in Washington attended by President Harding at which liquor was served in a separate room in exactly the same circumstances as at Boston," (was it the time when even Mr. Bryan took some by mistake?), but even at the best this is nothing more than a plea that "everybody does it"—in the higher circles. The more immediate phase of the prohibition question illustrated by the raid," notes the Springfield Republican, "is that there exists, with the sanction of the state prohibition director, a double standard of law enforcement—one for well-to-do and influential citizens and another for the man of humble position." Yet, in spite of this "double standard" in Massachusetts, with one law for the masses and another—or no law—for the rich or influential, certain enforcement officers actually raided a "wet" banquet in honor of Governor Cox! Though they did not venture to cart any of the "influentials" from the feast to the jail, their bravery must be conceded by all citizens of this country, whether "wet" or "dry."

Burroughs Nature Club Notes

Copyright 1921. By Houghton Mifflin Co.

What do you want to know about Nature Subjects? Send any questions of general interest to the Nature Notes Dept. of this paper. Look for answers in this column.

Can You Answer These Questions?

1. Is coral a rock or an animal or a plant?
2. Is there a simple remedy to defend woolen goods from moths?
3. We are told chimney swifts make nests of twigs. Like half a saucer stuck to the side of the chimney. How can they shape twigs that way?

Answers in Tomorrow's Nature Notes.

Answers To Previous Questions.

1. What is the color of a king snake, and is its bite poisonous? There are so many varieties of king snake that definite reply is difficult. Many have red or yellow narrow bands running around the dark or black body. The common king snake also called chain and thunder snake, is generally black, with narrow yellow or white cross bands, widening at the sides like a Y, and connecting with one another fashion. Not poisonous.

2. Can you tell me when the blue jay nests and hatches its young? Also what it eats in winter? From mid-April to mid-May, for the latitude of Minnesota, whence comes this question. The nest is commonly in trees, and may be in orchard trees near human habitations. Winter diet is nuts, waste grain left in fields and acorns. In the far West pine seeds are favorite for winter.

3. How do typhoid germs get into oysters and clams? These shell fishes breathe through gills, through which water is constantly flowing, to bring new oxygen. In this water are bits of marine plants eaten by these mollusks. They lodge in the gills, are coated with mucus, and passed into the mouth and digestive system. If typhoid germs are emptied by sewerage into the sea, they are likely to lodge on the marine plants, and thus be swallowed by the feeding oysters and clams.

WITTENBERG.

Wittenberg, Jan. 5.—At the M. E. Church Hall on Wednesday, January 4th, was held the annual dinner of the Willing Workers of the church. A splendid chicken dinner was served by the society to nearly 100 people. After the dinner the meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Harvey Short. After the devotional exercises the Rev. J. H. Lincoln took the chair and conducted the election of officers as follows: President, Mrs. Watson Risely; first vice president, Mrs. Roland Shultz; second vice president, Mrs. David Kelley; secretary, Mrs. James Shultz; treasurer, Mrs. Thomas Shultz; organist, Miss North Short; Freeman reporter, Miss Hilda Short. A vote of thanks was given Mrs. Harvey Short, the outgoing president, for her faithful service during the past year.

Mrs. Roland Shultz was given a vote of thanks as a committee in purchasing a beautiful individual communion service from Safford and Scudder of Kingston. The service will be used next Sunday for the first. A large congregation is expected at the service, which will take place at the Wittenberg Church next Sunday.

METTACAHONTS.

Mettacahonts, Jan. 5.—A week of prayer is being held at the school house this week. Church services will be held at the school house at 10:30, conducted by the pastor, the Rev. L. M. Braun, on Sunday, January 8.

The following families entertained friends on New Year's Day: Mr. and Mrs. Nimeon Osterhoudt, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Markle, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Osterhoudt, Mr. and Mrs. John Vandermark.

Mr. and Mrs. George Kelder and Mr. and Mrs. Eli Rider and son, Kenneth, were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Enderly on Friday evening.

ON-A-JOB, OFF-A-JOB JIM

Being a Story Of how Jim got on a job and why he got off it again.

It was when Jim was describing the catastrophe of the day before, and relating how near he had come to having his limbs smashed, that Charlie suggested his next job. "Place where artificial limbs—legs, arms, any kind of an extremity, are made. A great business! The guy that runs the establishment makes good money, but he doesn't want to spend it out for help. A fellow I know, who works for him, said if he didn't get in some extra help, he'd quit. You might work in."

"Show me to it!" agreed Jim. Shortly after, Jim was being introduced to the proprietor of "Johnson's Artificial Limb Company," who agreed that he could use him for several days. Jim's duties consisted mainly of planing and sandpapering the artificial limbs which had been made to order and which were polished smooth before a finish was put on the wood.

Jim was not used to the work, and moved slow, which did not please Johnson, who wanted him to rush the work. As the day wore on, the boy improved, and Jim was relieved to hear him say at the close of the day, "We can use you tomorrow."

Johnson and his two assistants had gone out to lunch when Mrs. Vanderveld arrived. She was richly sown, young and seemingly full of life. As Jim approached her, he wondered what she could be wanting in an artificial limb store. She was plainly embarrassed, but Jim's honest, good-natured face seemed to reassure her.

"You make artificial legs here?" "Yes Ma'am," Jim couldn't resist glancing down at the shapely feet. What could she be wanting an artificial leg for?

"Any kind of a leg?" "I believe so—yes."

"Then I wonder—could you come with me for about an hour?" "Go with you—where?"

"To my apartment. I want to make arrangements about the leg." Jim frowned in perplexity. He hardly knew what to do. As he hesitated, Johnson returned. "This is the boss," Jim informed the woman.

"I came to see about getting a wooden leg, but it's quite impossible to go into detail here. Will you let this young man go to my apartment?" Johnson gave a ready consent, and Jim, with some reluctance, followed the woman down to a waiting sedan, and was driven to her home. Admitted by a trim maid, Jim was led across heavy-rugged floors, to the woman's bedroom, straight to a basket in the corner, where a beautiful Dane lay moaning.

The veterinarian said that Master must be shot," stated the woman. "The bones of his leg have all been splintered by an automobile. There is no hope for his healing, and of course a dog can't go around on three legs. But Master is dearer to me than any other living creature, and if you will make him a fourth leg, I will pay you a thousand dollars."

The great Dane looked up to her, with eyes soft and pleading. He lifted his head, as if for a caress, then his eyes rolled, and he moaned long and pitifully.

Jim leaped forward anxiously. He had seen something like this before, when a dog of his own had been fatally injured. "I'm afraid I am too late, even if it were possible to make an artificial leg. There's, nothing I can do for the dog—for already he is dead."

THE COMPANY'S POLICY

On Wednesday of this week we announced an offering to our customers of $300,000 Seven Per Cent 10 year Guaranteed Gold Bonds. In a few days a descriptive circular will be sent to each of our customers giving detailed information as to these bonds together with subscription blanks, etc.

The policy of the company's management is to give preference to local investors in offering its securities and to give investors of every class an opportunity to subscribe. For this purpose the bonds will be issued and sold in convenient denominations of $100, $500 and $1,000 and the purchaser will be enabled to secure the bonds by paying a small amount with the subscription and the balance in monthly payments with his bills for gas or electricity, over a long period.

The same policy has been pursued in the other cities and towns in the Central Hudson Valley, where the management is the same as that of this company, with the result that the great majority of the outstanding securities of these companies are owned locally by between six and seven thousand security holders among customers for gas and electricity, and are considered as an ideal investment.

Tomorrow we will tell our customers why these bonds are a good investment.

NOT ALL AFRAID

Plane Has Odd Effect on Dwizens of Jungle.

Many Animals Fled From Strange
Sight but Others Showed Neither Fear Nor Curiosity.

Jason Humphreys, the twelve-year-old English boy who flew with his father, the pilot, a camera man and a scientist from Cairo to Cape Town, enjoyed a more novel experience than most boys of his age will ever know. The sudden change from bush to civilization as represented by clearings for small villages and farms and back again impressed young Humphreys very much. He was more interested, however, in the behavior of the wild beasts and birds over which he was flying. These took the passing of the airplane variously. Birds showed almost no curiosity except in the remotest regions. "They just flew along with us or left us," says Jason. This, it is said, is because birds fly far, and during the years of the war, African birds undoubtedly saw flying machines and became more or less used to them.

Wild beasts showed individual temperaments. Lions and leopards could be seen stalking along, oblivious to the giant purring overhead. If the machine came so low that the noise of the engine could not help reaching them, they slithered under protecting underbrush, but they never looked up. The naturalist has offered no explanation for this. It is a new phenomenon and must be studied.

Usually lions and leopards are in terror of strange noises, and know from infancy, by instinct, that gunfire bodes them no good. During the late war there was a general exodus of wild beasts from every quarter of Africa where any fighting was going on. They crashed through the jungle for miles, trying to get away from the sound of the guns; they traveled far from their real homes, and natural enemies traveled together in their flight without molesting one another. Since the close of the war bushmen and hunters have found them all back home again or traveling back. Their indifference to the sounds of the airplane, therefore, is surprising.

Apes and monkeys made wild efforts to reach the topmost branches of the highest trees in order to get a better view, and they could be sometimes heard screaming to one another above the noise of the engine, more in excitement and curiosity, presumably, than in fear.

The apes were indifferent, neither hastening their lumbering steps nor springing up; they did not seek animals as did the cats. But rhinoceroses panic-stricken. They rushed off a gallop to cover. Crocodiles sprang from the banks of streams and hid beneath the surface of the water until the flying machine had passed.

Prophecy in a Fake Story.

It is hard to know when to laugh. What was obviously a hoax yesterday, because of its utter impossibility, becomes a commonplace reality of today. It was a glorious hoax in 1844, when a New York daily announced: "Astounding News by Express From Norfolk."

"The Atlantic Crossed in Three Days!"

"Glorious Triumph of Mr. Monck Mason's Flying Machine!"

Breathless New Yorkers were informed that eight men had accomplished a transatlantic flight and were given full particulars of the machine, and the voyage, all imaginary. But if anyone dreamt of a hoax when the airplanes of the United States navy crossed the ocean a little while ago?

Bernard Shaw Aged 254.

"I am fairly familiar with Mr. Shaw's plays and prefaces," writes Gilbert Seldes in The Dial. "but I recall no emphatic acknowledgment anywhere of his debt to Gulliver's Travels, and if it mattered very much I should accuse Mr. Shaw of flinging Samuel Butler and the mysterious Captain Wilson like pepper in our eyes for fear of seeing the great dean too clearly. On a hundred topics, from doctors to diet, they have similar ideas."

Perhaps Mr. Shaw is like one of those characters in his new play who live to be 300 years old, under various names. If Bernard Shaw is Dean Swift, he is 254 years old.

A Master Mind.

"A remarkable detective."

"What did he do?"

"He chased a criminal through thirty-seven states and arrested him just as he was boarding a transatlantic liner."

"Good work, but why so extraordinary?"

"He refrained from giving out an interview to the press until after he had caught his man."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

A Personal Matter.

"Senator Snortworthy seems discouraged over the party's prospects."

"That's only temporary."

"Yes?"

"He was scheduled to address a conference of sovereign voters yesterday, and only three sovereign voters showed up, including the chairman."

Across the Room.

He—What would you say if I were to throw a kiss at you?

She—I'd say you were the luckiest man I ever met.

INDIANS GIVING UP MOCCASIN

Many Reasons Why the Red Men Are Taking to the Footgear of the White Race.

Because of a scarcity of proper leather from which to manufacture footwear, and the availability of store shoes, Indian moccasin making will soon be a lost art.

Throughout the Northwest the fringe-bordered and bead-decked Indian moccasin is rapidly being substituted by the white man's shoe. The high-laced shoe is a favorite with both sexes. For hunting and fishing the 1921 "warrior" prefers a hobnailed knee-high logger's boot.

The aboriginal moccasin fabric was mouse hide for cold weather in the Northwest; buffalo hide with the hair on for winter on the plains; buckskin for all general purposes, and later on beef hide in place of the disappearing skins.

In one fabric of the other were distinct tribal models with historical events drawn in bead work. The Crow, Sioux and Blackfoot Indian shoes possessed a hard rawhide sole to ward off stubby grass and pebbles. In the snowy regions of the northwest the moccasin had soft soles that would admit of the use of the snowshoe.

Tourists who have been searching for various makes of moccasins declare some of the Northwest tribes have entirely eliminated moccasins. That the historic shoe of the American native may not become extinct, the University of Washington will attempt to collect specimens of moccasins as made by every aboriginal tribe on the North American continent. An expedition has left to begin the collecting of the footwear.

GOT EVIDENCE FROM GRAVE

Chinese Tomb Two Hundred Years Old Opened to Prove Contention as to Ownership.

As a means of adjusting a difference between Chinese litigants who appeared in the mixed court at Shanghai recently, the court directed that a grave mound 200 years old should be opened.

The dispute concerned the ownership of a small tract of ground. In the action, Sung Chui-Dong alleged that Yih Woo-Zong invaded the premises under controversy and erected a bamboo fence around certain graves thereon, asserting that the place was his ancestral burying ground.

The plaintiff claimed the property as his own by ancestral grant.

When the grave mounds were opened, there were brought to light the tablets of a Chinese and his wife who had lived and died under the reign of the Emperor Kang Hsi.

When the tablets were brought to court it was found that the characters on them were of peculiar form and the writing read from left to right instead of from top to bottom, but the ink was clear and the plaques were well preserved.

After the reading of the tablets, the court announced the graves as those of the defendant's family and Sung's petition was dismissed.

Improved Sewing Machine.

A sewing machine that will do the family darning has now been patented, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. Its essential feature is a steel arm which carries the intricate mechanism controlling the shuttle and feed. This is increased in a ball at the end of the arm. In this way about twenty parts have been eliminated, making maintenance less expensive, and because of its simplicity, requiring less power to run. In darning, the bedplate covers over the ball and arm are removed, and the sock is drawn over the ball and along the arm. This construction also permits the sewing and mending of various other articles that require circular sewing.

Height of Aurora Borealis.

A Norwegian scientist, Mr. Stormer, was able to have photographed at several points in his country, the aurora borealis seen last May, which superimposed lines and cables and provided a gorgeous display in many parts of the world.

Comparing these photographs in relation to known stars photographed at the same time, he has calculated the height at which this aurora borealis was spread forth—namely, 312½ miles.

Thus, since the aurora borealis is by proof an electrical illumination of the rarified air gases, the earth's atmosphere extends at least that distance above the earth's surface.—Detroit News.

Is This Cruel and Unusual?

Chinese "safety first" sponsors have hit upon a drastic method of punishment in the effort to minimize deaths and accidents, due to reckless operation of motor cars, in the suggestion of imprisonment for offenders in a room with a wax figure of the victim. The Chinese Society for the Protection of Life has asked the Shanghai municipal council to adopt an ordinance prescribing the punishment, with the term of imprisonment left to the discretion of the court.

Ellen Terry's wit. When Barrymore, draped in a witty remark made by a young actress at a garden party, said: "This young lady reminds me of Ellen Terry, who was the wildest and most tactless woman I ever knew. I once heard a story which is characteristic of Ellen Terry's ready wit. She was used by her dressmaker for an unpaid bill and the case went against her. Adding to be allowed to appeal, she gave an ome of her reasons that the judge who rendered the decision was too old to understand the case. The judge of appeals reminded her that once before, in another suit, she had complained that her case had been tried by 'a bit of a boy.' 'What age, may I ask, madam, do you want a judge to be?' the judge of appeals inquired. 'Your age,' Miss Terry smilingly replied.

The Lion Took Charge. Nairoli tells us that the train approaching one of the stations the other day discovered it stalled, not by the human race, but by the lioness. One lion paced the platform like a stationmaster. Another occupied the telegraph office. A third, very appropriately, was in the refreshment room. There were no more, but the station staff decided that three were enough to deal with the local business and to tired. The engine-driver surveyed this lioness from afar, and, being a man of 'vigilant reserve and respect,' performed a fantasia of modern music upon his whistle. The lioness recoiled at the entrance of a primitive nature, and withdrew.—London Daily Telegraph.

PHOENICIA.

Phoenicia, Jan. 5.—Alma Alshelm was quite badly hurt while riding down a hill on the Tremper hill, last Wednesday evening. Quite a company were enjoying the sport. The evening was dark but a couple of lanterns helped out nicely. Thoughtlessly now and then, some one turned on a flash which not only blinded the riders coming down but bothered others going up. Once too often it was done and a rider coming down was blinded and struck. Alma, who fell heavily and was rendered unconscious. Dr. Gross was summoned and she was taken home. Her collar bone was broken and her shoulder badly bruised. We are very glad nothing more serious resulted and trust to soon see her out again entirely recovered.

A little daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Victor Jones.

The cold snap caught a few unsuspecting and froze the water pipes. It is trying to be minus water even for a short time while repairs are being made. The cold wave of the zero type is passing judging from the thermometer.

The teachers of the school had exercises on Friday before Christmas. Mr. Mathews principal, had a tree in his room, where all joined in. Father Smith gave a splendid talk to the pupils which made a fitting closing to the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Terpening and son Dayton, have returned after spending the holidays away.

The M. E. Sunday school held the Christmas exercises Monday evening. The cantata, "Unwilling the Star," is a very pretty one when given in full, and it was to be regretted that it could not. Considerable had to be omitted and when Monday evening came several children were ill and could not come, and this made a very bad break in several dialogue parts. Those taking part were Dorothy and Lillian Horner, Elmer and Margery Breithaupt, Winnie Dot and Rose Smith, Edna and Lillian Dutcher, Edna Bishop, Richard and Frederick Stuart, Donald Herbert, and Frederick Clark, Kenneth and Arthur Short, Earl Smith, James McLaren, Edward Keating, Albert Kilmer, Ernest and Ruby Rider, Douglas and Emily Longyear, Harriet Loomis, Frances Hill and Mrs. W. Smith. A solo was also sung by Nancy Merrinew, Elmer and Margery Breithaupt, Elmer and Winnie Smith and Harriet Loomis. A choir of excellent voices rendered the Christmas music very well and the singing was enjoyed by all. The children in trying to speak "The Night Before Christmas," and then gave a very nice talk regarding the Christmas season and what it meant. At the close Santa appeared and it seemed good to hear the old familiar sleigh bells ring.

He distributed gifts to all and a box of candy to the children present whether they were members of the Sunday school or not.

The Baptists held their exercises Sunday evening. E. Bennett gave a few well chosen remarks owing to the absence of the Rev. McLaren, who was ill. The exercises by the children were nice and the singing by a full choir was fine and enjoyed by all present.

Big Lost Lake in Nevada. During comparatively recent geological time a great lake covered a number of the valleys in Northwestern Nevada. This lake has now almost completely disappeared, but geologists have named it, in its entirety, Lake Lahontan, in honor of Baron La Hontan, one of the early explorers of the headwaters of the Mississippi. At the time of its greatest expansion, according to the United States geological survey, Department of the Interior, this ancient lake covered 8,400 square miles. The deepest part of Lake Lahontan, which was 890 feet deep, was the site of the present Pyramid lake, one of its remnants, so that its surface stood about 500 feet above the surface of Pyramid lake. The ancient lake had no outlet except the one that led straight up, its waters being dissipated entirely by evaporation.

Electricity in Switzerland. It is striking to see even the smallest and most primitive mountain villages lit with electric light. There must be no train and no shops, the paths are too steep for motors or even horse-drawn vehicles, yet the winding street will be brilliantly lit at night. A mountain valley in the evening offers a wonderful sight. On either hand the great mountain sides, spangled with little clusters of lights where the villages cling. In the clear air they shine out like dewdrops in the morning sun.

Hospital Without Words. A hospital without words, where people of small or no means can receive private treatment, is being built in New York.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

MARY GRAHAM BONNER

HARRY HOARY BAT.

"My name is Hoary Bat but my friends call me Harry," said the Hoary Bat.

"If you like you may call me Harry Hoary Bat, though Harry for short will do just as well."

"Now I am bigger than my cousin the Red Bat and I am a creature who does not go about as much as he does."

"I am very handsome in fact people who know me well call me beautiful."

"My fur is soft and I have plenty of brown and white fur the which adds to my smart appearance."

"I am particular as to my appearance. I comb my hair at least once every twenty-four hours. I do not need to buy a comb either as I always have one near at hand."

"As you may very easily guess if you're at all good at guessing my comb is one of my very own which no one can borrow from me."

"My own claws make my own comb. Isn't that fine? They are so curved and so sharp and so made that I can pull them over my head and back and comb my fur most beautifully."

"I would consider it very untidy if I did not do this."

"And I lick my back and my sides and my face as a kitten washes."

"I have a good appetite, oh yes. Harry cares for his food all right."

"I gobble it down and smack my lips with joy. I don't eat quite as delicately as I might but then it doesn't make much difference as I am never asked to banquet where my table manners would be noticed especially."

"Of course I grow eating so much and I enjoy being fat. I take too much exercise to allow myself to get too fat, for I can fly well."

"I keep away from people so they don't know me well. Harry Hoary isn't much of a one for company."

"He is a great sleeper too and he won't get up so early in the evenings as some bats will."

"Now when people speak of getting up early, they speak of getting up early in the morning, but when Harry Hoary speaks of getting up early he speaks of getting up early in the evening."

"He is quite willing to speak of getting up early, but he doesn't like to do it and as no one makes him get up he doesn't get up until he is ready."

"There is no one about saving. 'Harry Hoary hurry and get up' and no one pulls at my branch and tells me that it is getting late."

"So I get up at the hour I like best of all and that is when it is really dark and when the night has really come."

"I love it then! I love the dark night. And I like to fly about then in the day time I rest and sleep and in the late afternoon I sleep when some bats are getting up."

"In the early evenings I am still asleep, or at least I am still resting, and then many other bats are up and about."

"Ah, I will not tell you anything else about myself, for it is interesting to think of me and to feel, 'Oh dear, I do not know nearly all about Harry Hoary that I'd like to know'."

"That is what I would consider a pleasant feeling."

"So in order to let people have that feeling I do not tell everything about myself, not do I let people see me often so they can watch me."

"I keep my own affairs to myself. That is the way Harry Hoary does, and it is the way all Hoary Bats do."

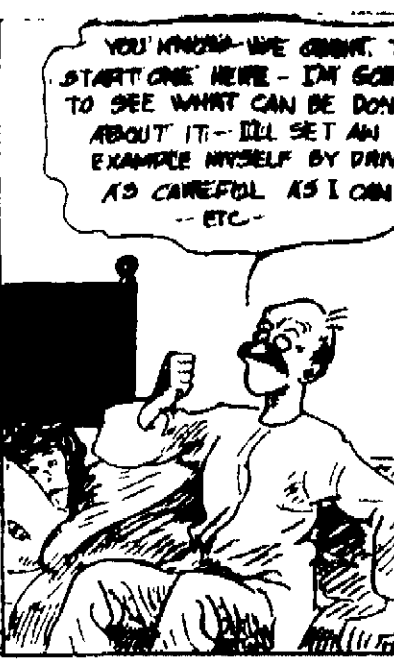

"But I will tell you that I am very, very, very strong and my wings are powerful."

"And I will tell you another thing—Harry likes his food, and will eat plenty of it. Food, not style is what Harry Hoary likes. I've told you this before, ha ha! You see I'm not giving away any of my secrets."

"But when it comes to being tidy and neat about one's self—there Harry Hoary is particular. He may not have good table manners but he is always well-groomed, and that means that he is always neat and of good appearance."

Man Like Uncle Jack
"Mamma," asked five-year-old Ralph "now that I have a jackknife and a pocketbook, ain't I a man like Uncle Jack?"
"Yes I suppose so," replied his mother.
"Well then," the youngster continued, "I wish you'd look and see if my mustache is growing yet."

GAS BUGGIES—The fable of the good resolution

The KITCHEN CABINET

Copyright, 1921, Western Newspaper Union

No man is big enough to do a lot of things and do them well enough to last. When you take him and spread him over a lot of surface, he makes a laser too thin to form any impression. But if you take him and hammer him with the stroke of a mighty purpose—even if there is not more than enough of him to fill a bean-shooter, he will make an impression when he strikes—D. L. Moody

EVERYDAY GOOD THINGS

Many farmers and small town women "put down" sausage, pork chops and other parts of the freshly butchered pig for winter use.

Sausage, prepared from the family's cherished recipe, made into balls, rolled in flour and fried brown on both sides then packed close in quart jars and covered with hot lard and sealed will keep perfectly.

This sausage may be cooked with cabbage or served simply reheated and covered with gravy. The following ways will be only suggestive.

When using the sausage set the jar into a pan of hot water, then when the lard is melted the cakes may be removed without breaking. This is the advantage of putting up the sausage in quart jars, as one will be used in a few days or, if the family is fond of sausage, at one meal.

Boiled Dinner.—Cut a small firm cabbage head into eighths, four carrots into slices, put all into a kettle of boiling water with six medium-sized onions, place one-half a jar of sausage cakes on top and boil briefly for half an hour. Then add eight medium sized potatoes and salt and pepper needed to season. Add water from time to time as it is needed. There should be one cupful of broth or less when the vegetables are cooked.

Spanish Sausage.—Cut two green peppers into narrow strips, brown with one small onion in one tablespoonful of butter. Add six sausage cakes, one cupful of tomatoes, pepper and salt to taste; simmer thirty minutes. Remove the meat to a platter and thicken the tomatoes with one tablespoonful of flour, rubbed smooth with one-half cupful of cold water. Cook for a few minutes, then pour over the meat and serve.

Sausage used in place of salt pork to bake with beans makes a change from the usual which is well liked.

Use it in your Coffee

When you pour it into the pitcher, notice the color. Compare it with any evaporated milk you ever saw. You will find that this has a rich, creamy appearance that tells its own story.

It blends perfectly with the steaming coffee. And the taste—you know the taste of coffee "with cream."

To get this "creamy milk" you must tell your grocer you want Dairymen's League Brand. Sold in large and baby-size cans. Also Sweetened Condensed Milk in 14-oz. cans.

LOCAL QUINTET DEFEATS MOHAWK

Making Seven Straight Wins; Jimmie Clinton Plays Barney Sedran and Holds Him to Three Four Points; Borgman Biggest Scorer.

The locals hung up another victory Thursday evening by defeating the Mohawk Five in a fast and interesting contest. Score 23 to 13. Borgman was the big point getter of the evening, making good from the floor and registering eight out of nine attempts from the chalk line. Carl Husta played the other forward position and put up an excellent game both on the defense and offense.

Jimmie Clinton was the star field basket shooter, sinking three exceptionally hard shots. He also played a remarkable game on the floor, keeping the much heralded Barney Sedran to three points. Clinton is playing one of the best guard games in the league. Artus and Knobloch were also in the game every minute, completing a fast quarter.

Mallory was the star for the Mohawks, scoring six points and playing a very thorough game. Sedran did not come up to the expectations of the fans, scoring three fouls out of six tries. Moorey, Dowd and Russell scored the remaining four points, two fouls and a field.

Borgman started the scoring by making good twice from the chalk line. Husta and Moorey were next, each making good a foul. Mallory scored the first field basket. Knobloch, Borgman, Moorey and Husta followed, each registering from the penalty line. Knobloch scored Kingston's first field. He was followed by Borgman also with a field, a very clever shot from almost the center of the court. Sedran followed making his first point good from the fifteen foot mark. The first period ended with Clinton shooting a neat field basket, and Mallory dropping in one from the floor, his second field. Score 12 to 7.

Borgman started the second half making good a foul. Russell and Clinton followed each with a field. Borgman registered again from the complimentary line. He was followed by Sedran making good twice and Mallory once from the foul line. Score 16 to 12 in Kingston's favor with ten minutes to play. Borgman made four points, a field and two from the chalk line.

Mallory made good a foul the only point received by the Indians in the last quarter of play. Kingston's remaining three points were made by Clinton, a field, and Borgman, a foul. Chuck Solodar was the referee and handled the game in a clever manner. The local fans agree with those upstate in saying that Solodar is the best referee in the league.

MONMOUTH HEIGHTS.

Monmouth Heights, Jan. 5.—Mrs. George Halwick visited at the home of F. P. Smith at Pataunkunk. Mr. and Mrs. Epps of Accord visited the Rev. A. Quick and wife one day the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Smith and children of Pataunkunk spent New Year's day with her parents in this place.

Charlie Goldberg has returned from the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Joel Lennon were callers at the Van Etten home one evening recently.

The majority of the men are busy getting out logs and firewood while the folk is good.

Harold Van Etten has been suffering from a badly injured toe, caused by a stick falling on it while unloading firewood.

Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Smith and family of Pataunkunk were guests of Frank Green and family on New Year's.

We were profoundly sorry to hear of the calamity that happened on Christmas morning to the Reformed Church at Accord and sympathize with the people in their loss of so fine an edifice.

Mrs. Goldberg and daughter, Dorothy, called on Mrs. L. Van Etten one day this week.

Raymond Halwick has returned to school after spending the holiday vacation with his parents here.

Leonard Van Etten spent Sunday evening with his uncle, the Rev. A. Quick.

Mr. and Mrs. William DePuy entertained the Martellus family and Ambrose Van Etten for dinner on New Year's Day.

The holiday week vacation was not observed in this district.

Mr. Myers is not building a large boarding house, but converting a building already there to a rooming place for next season and is planning an addition for which the foundation is ready. The Goldberg family are merely removing a partition between the garage and work shop and will use it as an amusement hall next season.

What You Have at Home.

Be still and do not forget what you have at home by turning to seek abroad what you will not find.—Psalms.

Just Think.

Just Think how an anxious man suffers so much that while you can't admire him you've got to sympathize with him.

SHE IS "FULL OF PEP" THEY SAY

She is Good-Looking and Gay and is Always Ready for a Good Time

Why is a girl popular? Look around and see what a good time the good-looking ones have all the time. Men seek them out and ask them to parties, dances and entertainments. And notice that it is not the doll-face type real men like most, but the red-blooded girl with "pep" and happy good nature. Any girl who is tired and languid and has a poor complexion and dull eyes can improve her condition and be far happier if she will simply take Gude's Pepto-Mangan until she has put her blood into good condition. Red blood means "full of life" and "full of life" usually means happiness.

Try Gude's Pepto-Mangan and see how much better you feel. Doctors have used it nearly thirty years for weak, run-down people. It helps them get well. Sold in both liquid and tablet form.—Advertisement.

NEW SUPERVISORS BOARD ORGANIZES

Proctor, DeWitt and McKert Re-elected—Dr. Buckley Jail Physician—Snyder, Auchmoody and Every County Auditors.

The members of the Ulster county legislature met at the supervisors' rooms at the court house, Thursday afternoon, at 4 o'clock, pursuant to call by Henry R. DeWitt, the holdover clerk, and organization was effected by the election of officers. Previous to the meeting the Republican members, being the majority members, met in caucus and agreed on a slate which was carried out.

After roll call by Mr. DeWitt, all the members being present, Supervisor Partlan, Democrat, of the Sixth ward nominated John D. Fratcher for chairman, which was seconded by Supervisor Chester Young of Wawarsing who said that the Democrats had "beat us Republicans to it" and "moved that nominations be closed and that the acting clerk cast one ballot for Mr. Fratcher. This was done and the election of Supervisor Fratcher for a term of two years was made unanimous. Supervisor Fratcher is a veteran member of the board of supervisors having served continuously from 1893 to 1898, having been chairman in 1894-5-6-7, and has been representing the town of Saugerties in the county legislature since 1914. Supervisors Young and Partlan were appointed a committee to escort Chairman Fratcher to the chair who expressed his grateful appreciation for the honor conferred by his election and promised to do his utmost to make the doings of the board a success.

Supervisor Young in turn nominated Henry R. DeWitt for clerk of the board, and John W. Eckert for county attorney. Edgar T. Shultz seconded the nomination of Mr. DeWitt and Supervisor Heaton that of Mr. Eckert for county attorney. Both were unanimously re-elected to those positions and expressed their thanks. Mr. DeWitt has been the efficient clerk since 1916 and Mr. Eckert the hard-working attorney since 1914.

Supervisor Walter C. Miller of the Second ward nominated Dr. John T. Buckley for jail physician, seconded by Supervisor Shultz, and Dr. Buckley was elected unanimously.

Supervisor J. Charles Snyder, Elias S. Auchmoody of Rosendale, and William E. Every of Hardenburgh were designated as members of the board county auditors, to receive $4 a day for each day of actual service, the clerk of the board to be clerk of the auditors.

Petitions from town boards for construction of highways by state aid were read and filed, the highways asked for to be in the towns of Marlinton, Olive, Shandaken and Esopus. Filed.

On motion of Supervisor Snyder the rules of the board of 1921-22 were adopted as the rules of the board of 1922-23.

On motion of Supervisor Schoonmaker the chairman was authorized to appoint a committee of eight members, the chairman to be one, to be known as the legislative committee. Adopted.

Supervisor Heaton offered a resolution which was adopted that the chair be authorized to appoint a committee of six to acquire rights of way for state highways when necessary and that the county treasurer be empowered to pay awards for such claims for payment for such rights of way, and that the committee have power to bring condemnation proceedings if rights of way cannot be acquired otherwise by purchase. Adopted.

On motion of Supervisor Sagen-dorf the clerk of the board be empowered to employ one deputy clerk and two assistant clerks and that the sum of $1,550 be appropriated to pay such clerks.

Supervisor Fratcher offered a resolution that the state civil service commission be requested to furnish an eligible list from which to select a stenographer for the superintendent of county highways at a salary of $600 a year; that the superintendent be empowered to select a temporary stenographer pending the furnishing of the eligible list requested. Adopted.

Doc bills of Lewis H. Wood of the town of Shawangunk for $33.60, allowed at $22, and one of Gilbert

Ducker for $19.50, allowed at $14.15, were on motion of Supervisor Shultz audited, and warrants ordered issued to pay same.

Supervisor McDermott of this city stated that as Mayor Canfield had stated that the city's share of the county budget was over or about $20,000 more than the year before and as a matter of information he desired to know if this was so and if so what caused the increase. He hoped that some plan would be devised to reduce expense as a large percentage of men were idle here. "Many having bought homes under the savings and loan plan and I hope that we all will do our share in helping them out as a very large share of the county charges are paid by city taxpayers."

Clerk DeWitt and County Attorney Eckert explained to Supervisor McDermott that the increase was only $13,047.34 due because of sum that had to be raised on county for highway purposes, which included about $65,000 due from last year but which now had been cared for. They said they hoped that the board would devise means of decreasing the expense.

On motion of Supervisor Shultz the board of supervisors adjourned subject to the call of the chair.

Announcement of the selection of Henry P. Fletcher, Under Secretary of State, as Ambassador to Belgium was hinted as imminent in official quarters in Washington. Mr. Fletcher would succeed Brand Whitlock, who has been the American Ambassador to Brussels.
